Vendors License:

We are recommending that anybody selling at SPACE get a vendors license. If you do not have a regular vendors license than you should get a Transient Vendor's license by filling out form ST-1T from the Ohio Department of Taxation website http://tax.ohio.gov/divisions/sales_and_use/license.stm. There is a one-time application fee of $25.00. There is no further fee except for the sales tax you collect as long as you file every six months even if you have made no sales in Ohio.

The form can be obtained though the mail by writing to the Ohio Department of Taxation P.O.Box 182215 Columbus OH 43218-2215

Obscenity:

Although my comics are pretty mild I'm very anti-censorship. Columbus like every other city has obscenity laws, which basically state what you can get away with, is based on this undefined thing called the "community standard". Since I can walk into the local mall and pick a Playboy (or Playgirl for that matter) I don't know where that leaves the line. One thing I can say for sure is nothing considered "objectionable" can be openly displayed. Also nothing that is "objectionable" can be viewed by children. Example: A comic with "Mature" material inside can sit on the table if there is nothing "objectionable" on the cover (which is usually the case if you want to sell stuff at comic shops). If a kid picks it up it's up to you to stop them. I'm anti-censorship but pro-responsibility. I believe the responsibility of what children view is the responsibility of the parents but in this environment you the comic producer know best what is in your publications and can make that judgment. I think the fact that we are sitting right there monitoring who has access to our material should be enough to keep us all out of trouble.

Graciousness:

Be kind to your neighbors. Over the past 7 years there has been great camaraderie at this show and I hope it continues. It has never come to this but if there is any type of dispute that can't be resolved amicably we reserve the right to resolve it

Cancellations:

If anybody has to cancel I'd appreciate it if you could let me know as soon as possible.

I have read the above and agree with the content,
