Important Exhibitor Information

Please sign and return a copy of the following page along with the Exhibitor Application. Keep a copy for yourself.

Parking:

It cost $5.00 a day to park at the venue with no in and out privileges. A pass for the entire weekend with in and out privileges will be available for $15.00 when you park.

Vendors License:

We are recommending that anybody selling at SPACE get a vendors license. If you do not have a regular vendors license than you should get a Transient Vendor's license by filling out form ST-1T from the Ohio Department of Taxation website http://www.tax.ohio.gov/sales_and_use/license.aspx . There is a one-time application fee of $25.00. There is no further fee except for the sales tax you collect as long as you file every six months even if you have made no sales in Ohio.

The form can be obtained on-line or though the mail by writing to the Ohio Department of Taxation P.O.Box 182215 Columbus OH 43218-2215

AI: No AI produced products are permitted at SPACE.

Obscenity:

Although my comics are pretty mild I'm very anti-censorship. Columbus like every other city has obscenity laws, which basically state what you can get away with, is based on this undefined thing called the "community standard". One thing I can say for sure is nothing considered "objectionable" can be openly displayed. Also nothing that is "objectionable" can be viewed by children. Example: A comic with "Mature" material inside can sit on the table if there is nothing "objectionable" on the cover (which is usually the case if you want to sell stuff at comic shops). If a kid picks it up it's up to you to stop them. I'm anti-censorship but pro-responsibility. I believe the responsibility of what children view is the responsibility of the parents but in this environment you the comic producer know best what is in your publications and can make that judgment. I think the fact that we are sitting right there monitoring who has access to our material should be enough to keep us all out of trouble.

Graciousness:

Be kind to your neighbors. Over the past 22 years there has been great camaraderie at this show and I hope it continues. It has never come to this but if there is any type of dispute that can't be resolved amicably we reserve the right to resolve it.

Cancellations:

If anybody has to cancel I'd appreciate it if you could let me know as soon as possible. Refunds will be made minus Paypal charges or postage up to two weeks before the show. I have read the above and agree with the content,
